Practical and Useful

Audiences learn practical and immediately useful ways to improve their stress and anxiety levels. Toni's personal, story-based talks are instantly relatable – everyone can see themselves and their own unhelpful behaviours. Renowned for her ability to disarm and amuse audiences Toni's keynote will be quoted for years to come.

Toni Makes Your Life Easier

She's a former professional event director who understands your challenges and knows you have enough on your plate:

- She respects the time slot allocated to her.
- She loves to pitch in help set up.
- She'll be laid back about problems and help you with solutions.
- She'll promote your event across social media
- Always happy to mingle afterward.
- She's also able to offer extra value by bundling her much loved masterclasses and workshops on the day or as a follow up.
